

SOUTHERN TASMANIAN ENDURANCE RIDERS

Everyone and anyone can enjoy endurance riding – REALLY! Though there are some minor requirements regarding the safety attire that must be worn by the rider, there really are no specifics in terms of horse breed or special equipment. A helmet, comfortable clothing and suitable footwear is generally the main requirement. Our next STER ride will be held at a pastoral property near Hamilton in Southern Tasmania on May 14 – details are below.

Why not come along and try it for yourself? If you are new to the sport, there is information to help you out on the 'Links' page of the Tasmanian Equine Endurance Riders (TEERA) website. <https://www.teera.asn.au>

We look forward to meeting lots of new riders at “Glenelg” in May!!
